

Fees Schedule

Appendix to the general terms and conditions drawn up by the Austrian National Library

Valid as of 1 April 2010

Contents:

- (A) Fees for the reproduction of originals owned by the Austrian National Library
- (B) Fees for the publication of materials owned by the Austrian National Library
- (C) Fees for borrowing originals owned by the Austrian National Library for exhibition purposes
- (D) Fees for scientific information services
- (E) Fees for local loans
- (F) Fees for interlibrary loans
- (G) Library card fees (library ID)
- (H) Admission fees for the State Hall, the Globe Museum, the Esperanto Museum, and the Papyrus Museum

§ 1 Basic Provisions

This fees schedule is an integral part of the library regulations of the Austrian National Library (ANL).

All prices are indicated in euros and include the lowered VAT of 10%. In case of cross-border transactions, Austrian VAT may be excluded (net invoicing) under certain conditions, such as in case of VAT-liable businesses or in case of services delivered to customers in third countries. In case of doubt if VAT exemption is applicable, the ANL reserves the right to charge Austrian VAT.

Bank costs calculated for third countries and overseas in the amount of € 10.90 can be deducted if payment to the ANL is made exempt of charges, by bank transfer or credit card.

Dispatch of reproductions and publications by the Austrian National Library incurs postage (according to weight) and registered mail fees according to postal charges.

By the time the ANL has sent the link or digitised medium of the ordered reproduction by e-mail, the service will be considered as rendered and delivered electronically.

(A) Fees for the reproduction of originals owned by the Austrian National Library

§ 2 General conditions

The fees listed in this section (A) apply exclusively to reproductions made for personal (private) use (according to §42 Copyright Act). For all further uses (in publications, exhibitions, Internet, etc.) additional charges apply (see section [B], §§9–27).

The fees set out below do not apply to particularly endangered holdings or to those declared special in terms of treatment. In these cases, as well as for uses not included in this list, fees will have to be especially negotiated.

The Austrian National Library is Austria's central archival library. It follows that reproductions of its holdings can only be made in accordance with strict conservation stipulations. In cases of doubt the responsible library staff member will decide on the possible form of reproduction.

The users are solely responsible for the observation of copyright provisions, personal rights, and other legal provisions.

§ 3 For paper copies made at self-service coin and copy-card copiers (external suppliers) the following fees apply:

(B) Fees for the publication of materials owned by the Austrian National Library

- Fees for the publication of materials owned by the Austrian National Library are based on the type of the original used and on the type of the publication.
- When using materials owned by the Austrian National Library in publications and exhibitions, the source must be fully cited in the photo credits.
- In addition to the fees listed below, two free sample copies (for Austrian publications: one free sample copy) of each publication containing reproductions of originals owned by the Austrian National Library shall be delivered.

Otherwise the Austrian National Library's general terms and conditions for utilization fees apply.

§ 10 Fees for borrowing colour transparencies (ectachromes) from the Austrian National Library

For making colour reproductions, either duplicates of colour transparencies (so-called 'ectachrome duplicates') will be made available on a loan basis, or reproducible (high-resolution) scans will be produced.

The costs for producing a duplicate from a master transparency are to be covered by the customer. Should it be necessary to produce a master transparency, the costs involved shall also be borne by the customer. (For dispatch charges, see Section [A] § 5).

Ectachrome duplicates may be borrowed for a period of three months. An extension must be applied for in writing before this period expires and will only be granted if no reservation for the ectachrome duplicate in question has been made.

Prices are composed of a loan fee for the ectachrome duplicate or of a production fee for the scan (see Section [A] § 8) plus a utilization fee for publishing the material.

Loan fee for ectachromes (duplicates)

Loan fee for three months (excluding dispatch costs)	72.70
Extension per month	36.30
Surcharge for exceeding loan time per week	14.50
Compensation for loss of or damage to the ectachrome
In case the ectachrome can be replaced	145.40
In case the ectachrome cannot be replaced	726.70

§ 11 Use of the Austrian National Library's originals for facsimile editions

The production of facsimiles based on works owned by the Austrian National Library requires a written contractual agreement and the explicit permission of the Directorate General.

§ 12 Fees for the use of originals owned by the Austrian National Library in scholarly publications (B/W and colour)

(Production costs for the reproductions are not included in the fees listed below and will be charged separately; see Section [A]).

Scholarly publications are:

Research publications, printed dissertations, postdoctoral theses, and degree theses, expert contributions, research reports (dissertations and theses that have not been published by a publishing house are free of charge).
