

Provisional statement of charges for loan item

from the [collection] for the exhibition:

The borrower

undertakes to bear the following incidental costs, under the terms of the lending agreement:

Prices include 10% VAT!

A | Transport

- Art transport
- Collection by the customer
- Lender's courier

Transport costs are to be borne by the borrower.

If the insurance value is higher than € 10,000.–, use of specialist art transport is obligatory. If the calculated insurance value of all items listed in the lending agreement is less than € 10,000.–, the borrower has the optional possibility of organising transport for himself, provided appropriate security measures are taken (for instance collection by a qualified employee). At the Head of the Collection's discretion, items that need special handling because of their nature, size or condition (e.g. manuscripts or globes) may be exempted from this regulation.

B | Insurance of loan items

Insurance costs are to be borne by the borrower.

C | Courier escort from the Austrian National Library

The costs of courier escorts are to be borne by the borrower.

Monitoring of transportation by an ANL employee is to be provided basically if the insurance value of all items listed in the lending agreement exceeds € 10,000.– (courier escort by 1 person). Exceptions can be made at the Collection Head's discretion (for instance if the total insurance value of the insured items is higher than € 10,000.–, but the value of the individual items does not warrant a courier escort).

Courier journeys are to be kept as short and economical as possible, in the interests of both the ANL and the borrower.

The final decision about the duration of the courier escort required is to be taken by the Collection Head in consultation with the borrower.
